

Call for Applications for Deutschlandstipendium Scholarship

Eleventh Award Round: 1st September 2021 to 31st August 2022

I. Scholarship Regulations and Application Requirements

1. TH Lübeck, University of Applied Sciences will award Deutschlandstipendium Scholarships from 1st September, 2021 to 31st August, 2022, to cover for winter semester 2021/2022 (1st September, 2021 to 28th February 2022) and summer semester 2022 (1st March, 2022 to 31st August, 2022) respectively. The relevant legal framework for this scholarship is derived from the laws governing the creation of national scholarship programs (Scholarship Program Law - StipG of 21st July, 2010), The Regulation for the Implementation of Scholarship Program Law (Scholarship Program Regulation - StipV of 20th December, 2010) and The Implementing Regulation of TH Lübeck, University of Applied Sciences of 9th June, 2021.
2. This scholarship applies to anyone who is already enrolled at the TH Lübeck, University of Applied Sciences or is due to be enrolled in the semester following the application period in question, fulfills the performance criteria and receives no other scholarships and or other performance-related material support. The applicant has the right of choice. The receipt of BAföG is not affected by this scholarship.
3. The scholarship amount is € 300.00 per month and is granted during the semester break as well. The funding period is initially one or two semesters, depending on the start of the program (WS / SS).
4. Outstanding achievements shall be rewarded and the grant shall support the students to excel in their studies. They shall be enabled to have an in-depth and successful study.
5. The number of scholarships to be awarded depends on the successful recruitment of private funds and is therefore subject to sufficient funds being raised. In this funding period, we expect to be able to award approximately 58 scholarships. Applications are welcome from all departments (including online courses!). The earmarked scholarships are distributed according to the current state of knowledge on subsequent courses.

6. The procedure for determining the suitability of an applicant is the responsibility of the university.

In principle, the scholarship can continue until the end of the regular period of study, if the prerequisites are met or in justified exceptional cases, the funding can be extended for maximum of two further semesters, provided the TH Lübeck, University of Applied Sciences and the sponsors recognize the aforementioned reason for extension. By fulfilling the selection criteria and thereby making resources available for this course, Lübeck University of Applied Sciences endeavors to continue its commitment in the sense of long-term funding.

Applications for further funding will be sent directly to the second selection stage of the subsequent allocation round. These applications will be decided upon independent of the ranking of initial scholarships applications and will hence be considered in no doubt. The basis for further support will be based on the applicant's positive aptitude and performance assessment of the past eligibility period by the selection panel.

7. There is no legal right to the scholarship.
8. There will be no review of the income situation.
9. Applicants must fulfill their obligations to abide by the required selection procedures (§ 10 StipG), in particular, upon request, to provide the information necessary for the examination of the aptitude and performance assessments, provide relevant evidence and immediately declare any changes in their circumstances that may be significant for the award of this scholarship, for instance, receipt of another scholarship.

10. The scholarship award may be withdrawn and the already received funds reclaimed, if it becomes apparent that the award was granted based on incorrect information provided by the candidate.
11. The scholarship holder may not take up any other financial support or employment obligations during the grant period.

II. Application Process

The application process is two-tiered and takes place exclusively in winter semester.

The application for the first selection round (first stage of the selection process) will be communicated electronically through an online application portal. For the purposes of access, initial registration is mandatory. No proofs / documents are required here. It is only necessary for purpose of signing the Declaration of Application Procedure, which can be downloaded in the application portal. At the latest before the submission of your application, an upload of the corresponding documents will be necessary.

Should the electronic application not be possible due to some technicalities, the application can consequently be made in writing or declared for transcription at the TH Lübeck, University of Applied Sciences. In that case, the application should be sent to:

TH Lübeck, University of Applied Sciences
Deutschlandstipendium
